

DR. NADIA YAQUB:

“SCREENING PALESTINE”

Dr. Nadia Yaqub is an Associate Professor at the Department of Asian Studies, at University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. Her research has treated Arab cultural texts ranging from medieval literature and contemporary oral poetry to modern prose fiction and visual culture. Most recently she had focused on two distinct areas of inquiry: Palestinian visual culture, and women and transgression in the Arab world, and have published a book in each of these areas: “Bad Girls of the Arab World,” which she co-edited with Rula Quawas, and “Palestinian Cinema in the Days of Revolution.”

Dr. Yaqub will speak about her experience curating Palestinian cinema.

This talk is organized in conjunction with the film screening “Checkerboard Borders” with the support from Cultural Affairs Grant -at Wofford College
